

THE MINDSET METHOD

PILLAR 3: Client Onboarding

Strategy 13 The 2nd Appointment

"Thoroughness characterizes all successful people. Genius is the art of taking infinite pains. All great achievement has been characterized by extreme care, infinite, painstaking, even to be the minutest detail."

Elbert Hubbard

Pillar 3: Client Onboarding

The 2nd Appointment

WHY is this Important?

At the time of setting the 2nd Appointment, you and the client have mutually decided to work together. Congratulations! You now need to gather all the information necessary to begin formulating your recommendations for implementation. That's not all this appointment is about. To understand how this agenda driven meeting unfolds, it's important to understand the intent:

1. To continue to demonstrate you have a professional and attractive process for bringing on new clients.
2. To gather as much financial information as required to begin formulating professional, suitable recommendations to be presented in the next phase of Implementation.
3. To share your Introduction Process with the new client (how to introduce or recommend others to you).

One of the things that make this appointment particularly unique and powerful is the reinforcement of who we are and what we do. Remember, these new clients have only met with you once so far and will appreciate the reminders. We will also be positioning introductions as a service to your best clients.

When it comes to fact-finding, you want a data collection process that can be consistently applied with each client. This will allow you to focus on the client so you can process all the important information they share with you.

WHAT You Can Expect from this Best Practice

- Continue to establish rapport and build trust with your client
- Reinforce and clarify client goals - what matters most to them about their money
- Follow up the 'Is There a Fit' decision with the fact-finding required to prepare a Personal Financial Organizer (PFO)
- Reinforce that you both made a well-informed decision about working together.
- Deliver your Introduction Process
- Set the stage for the 3rd Appointment and the delivery of the Personal Financial Organizer (PFO)

HOW to Get Started

The 2nd Appointment: Comprehensive Fact-Finding

1. Print out a copy of the 2nd Appointment Process Graphic.
2. Review and customize the 2nd Appointment Confirmation Letter, which is sent out ahead of time to confirm the appointment details. It includes a list identifying specific items the client should bring.
3. Include a checklist with the confirmation letter. Choose whichever works best for you:
 - A Checklist that dove-tails with your planning software (often ready to go)
 - The Basic Checklist
 - The Detailed Checklist \(US Full Checklist or CDN Full Checklist\)
4. Review the 2nd Appointment Confirmation Call Script.
5. Review and customize the 2nd Appointment Agenda.
6. Review and customize the 2nd Appointment Advisor Script.
6. Rehearse conducting this appointment using the following:
 - 2nd Appointment Agenda
 - 2nd Appointment Advisor Script
 - Personal Financial Profile (the tool you have chosen for Fact Finding)
7. Identify who on the team will be responsible for each of the 2nd Appointment steps.
 - Add this information to your New Client Checklist.
8. Add all 2nd Appointment scripts, resources and templates to your Procedures Manual.

Standardize Your Fact-Finding Approach

1. Identify the standard tool you will use to conduct Fact Finding.
2. If you have a Fact-Finder that dovetails with planning software and covers all basis, continue to use it.
3. If you do not currently have a Fact Finder, investigate your options by examining the following:
 - Questionnaires available for planning software you currently use
 - Firm-endorsed questionnaires
 - Our sample Fact-Finders:
 - Personal Financial Profile - US Version \(Word\) or PDF file
 - Personal Financial Profile - Canadian Version \(Word\) or PDF file
4. Once you identify the fact-finding tool that works best for you, use it consistently.

Risk Assessments

1. If you don't have access to a risk assessment tool, you may wish to use one found online or use our sample Risk Tolerance Assessment.
2. Review the Investor Risk Profile Summary.

2nd Appointment Confirmation Letter

Send the 2nd Appointment Letter & Checklist about 2 weeks before the 2nd Appointment with your new client so they have enough time to receive it and begin pulling together the documentation you asked them to bring.

2nd Appointment Confirmation Call

This is the confirmation call script for new clients coming in for the 2nd Appointment.

It is recommended the Assistant makes this confirmation call.

- [Client] please?
- This is [Assistant] calling from [Advisor's] office.
- I'm calling to confirm your appointment at [time, on date].
- We will be completing your Personal Financial Profile at this meeting.
- You will need to bring the documents with you that are listed on the checklist that came with the appointment confirmation letter.
- Did you receive the confirmation and checklist we mailed to you?

○ If yes:

Great, do you have any questions about the list?

Have you had trouble getting all the documents together?

If yes, offer to rescheduling appointment if the client requires more time.

○ If no:

[Client], these documents are required for you and [Advisor] to have thorough discussion about your current situation – which is very important.

To give you time to gather the material, let's go ahead and reschedule this appointment for you.

Confirm address, resend checklist, and reschedule appointment for later date, saying:

- Terrific - we look forward to seeing you at [time] on [date].

2nd Appointment Advisor Script

This is the companion script for Advisors conducting the 2nd Appointment with new clients.

Much of the scripting in this Appointment has been developed and practiced in the New Client Advocate Process. Use what you have created already to completely customize this script.

This meeting should take approximately one hour.

Greeting (5 minutes)

- Welcome the client and establish a rapport with them.
- Make small talk (weather, sports, families, anything to establish common ground).
- Make sure they have brought the majority of required documents for this meeting. If for any reason they have not, explain to them that it isn't possible to proceed and have the meeting rescheduled. Your assistant is expected to screen for this when the appointment is confirmed using the 2nd Appointment Confirmation Script

1. Meeting Overview (1 minute)

- Here is the agenda for today's meeting.
 - Give them a copy of the agenda.
- To begin, we always start our meetings with a brief Review of Our Practice & Approach, including our Introduction Process. This will only take a few minutes.
- The rest of our time together will be spent asking you a lot of questions to make sure I have a thorough understanding of your situation. We will be using Your Personal Financial Profile to ensure we are organized and thorough. Point to the Personal Financial Profile.
- This means we will be reviewing your goals and objectives, as well as conducting a thorough review of your current situation.
- This is also where we will review the documentation we asked you to bring.
- After we finish that, we will talk about the next steps in the financial planning process.
- Do you have any questions about what we will cover today?

2. Review of Our Practice and Approach (2-3 minutes)

Use the scripting you created for the 1st Appointment with New Clients. This is intended to be a concise version of who you are and what you do – it should reflect the highlights and key messaging.

We covered a good deal of information in our 1st Appointment together, so I'm going to take a minute here to remind you about a few important things related to our practice and approach.

Our Wealth Management Approach & Your Critical Financial Events

- I know we covered a lot in our first meeting, and I wanted to take a minute now to briefly review our core philosophy on wealth management because it's central to how we will work with you going forward – starting today.
- We focus on simplifying, organizing and coordinating all aspects of your wealth management to create the financial peace of mind we know most of our clients are looking for.
- All this begins with understanding 'What's Important to You,' which we began to discuss at our last meeting.
- This helps us begin to identify your short, medium and long-term goals and Critical Financial Events - anything and everything that pertains to and affects your finances either now or in the future.
- You mentioned that [insert critical financial event applicable to them - retirement, caring for others, family security] is important to you and that means we will be helping you plan and prepare accordingly.
- Today we will complete a thorough examination of your current financial situation – to do this we will complete Your Personal Financial Profile today.
- Based on this information, we will propose a series of recommendations that will be summarized in your Personal Financial Organizer (PFO), which will help us monitor our progress together. Show the Sample PFO.
- We will meet regularly to review your Personal Financial Organizer (PFO) to ensure it reflects an accurate representation of what's important to you, your specific critical financial events and where you are in relation to achieving your goals.
- We will also make sure that you are kept up to date on any changes that occur and of course, we will need you to do the same.

Our Introduction Process

Look at the agenda for your meeting and point to the item on the agenda when you begin speaking about the Introduction Process.

Be low key and relaxed.

[CLIENT], now that we will be working together, I am going to briefly explain how introductions work within our practice.

- Over the course of our relationship, it is likely at some point that you will encounter someone that has need of our services. Someone you know may have uncertainties about the markets or their portfolios, perhaps they are going through a Critical Financial Event like we discussed and there is uncertainty about it. Or, maybe they are dissatisfied with their advisor.
- When that situation does happen, and historically speaking my experience tells me it will, you should know that if that person is important to you, then they are important to me. I will always make the time to meet with them.
- Regarding how to handle it if you do encounter someone that might benefit from our services, really the best thing to do is for you to give me a call to let me know more about who you would like to introduce to us, as well as provide us with their contact information – with their expressed permission to do so - of course.

- You can also let them know I will reach out to them to briefly introduce myself and if they are still interested in learning more, we will send them out an Introductory Kit as we did for you.
 - You may want to have a sample Introduction Kit at the meeting and point to it now.
- As you know, when I meet with someone for the first time, we spend time getting to know each other in order to determine if we can provide what they are looking for and equally important, if they are a good fit for our philosophy and approach. We recognize it's an important decision for both of us. That's exactly why we take the time to assess any partnership before proceeding.
- There is no guarantee this person will be a good FIT for me as a client, but that is irrelevant. I will meet anyone that is important to you and if it turns out not to be a good FIT, I will do everything I can to point that person in a direction that is beneficial to them.
- And know that everyone you send to us will always be treated with the same level of professionalism and respect you have experienced with us.
- Do you have any questions [CLIENT]?"

3. Review of Your Goals and Objectives (5 minutes)

What's Important to You

- At our last meeting, we talked extensively about what is important to you.
- You indicated that ...

Summarize each of the goals they identified to you in the 1st Appointment

- [CLIENT], as I mentioned, we will be choosing financial strategies based on these goals.
- Is there anything you want to add to our initial discussion at this point?
- Are there any goals you would like to place a higher priority on?

If there are changes explore these by questioning them as you did before.

4. Your Current Circumstances (40 minutes)

Your Personal Financial Profile

- Next, we need to complete your Personal Financial Profile.
- This will tell us more about your current financial situation and help us identify solutions suitable for helping you achieve your financial and lifestyle goals.

Complete their Personal Financial Profile. Also, be sure to complete a Risk Tolerance Profile.

Review of the Items We Requested You Bring In

You may integrate the documents you asked them to bring with each related section of the factfinder or you may want to go through them all at once and ask questions related to each one.

5. Meeting Wrap-Up (1 minute)

- Now I would like to book our next meeting. At that time, I will provide you with your Personal Financial Organizer (PFO). Reference the sample binder once again by simply pointing to it.
- When can we see you in about two weeks from now? See note below.
- Do you have any other questions about what we covered today or what to expect at our next meeting? Answer questions accordingly.
- Great, I look forward to seeing you on [date, time].

Note:

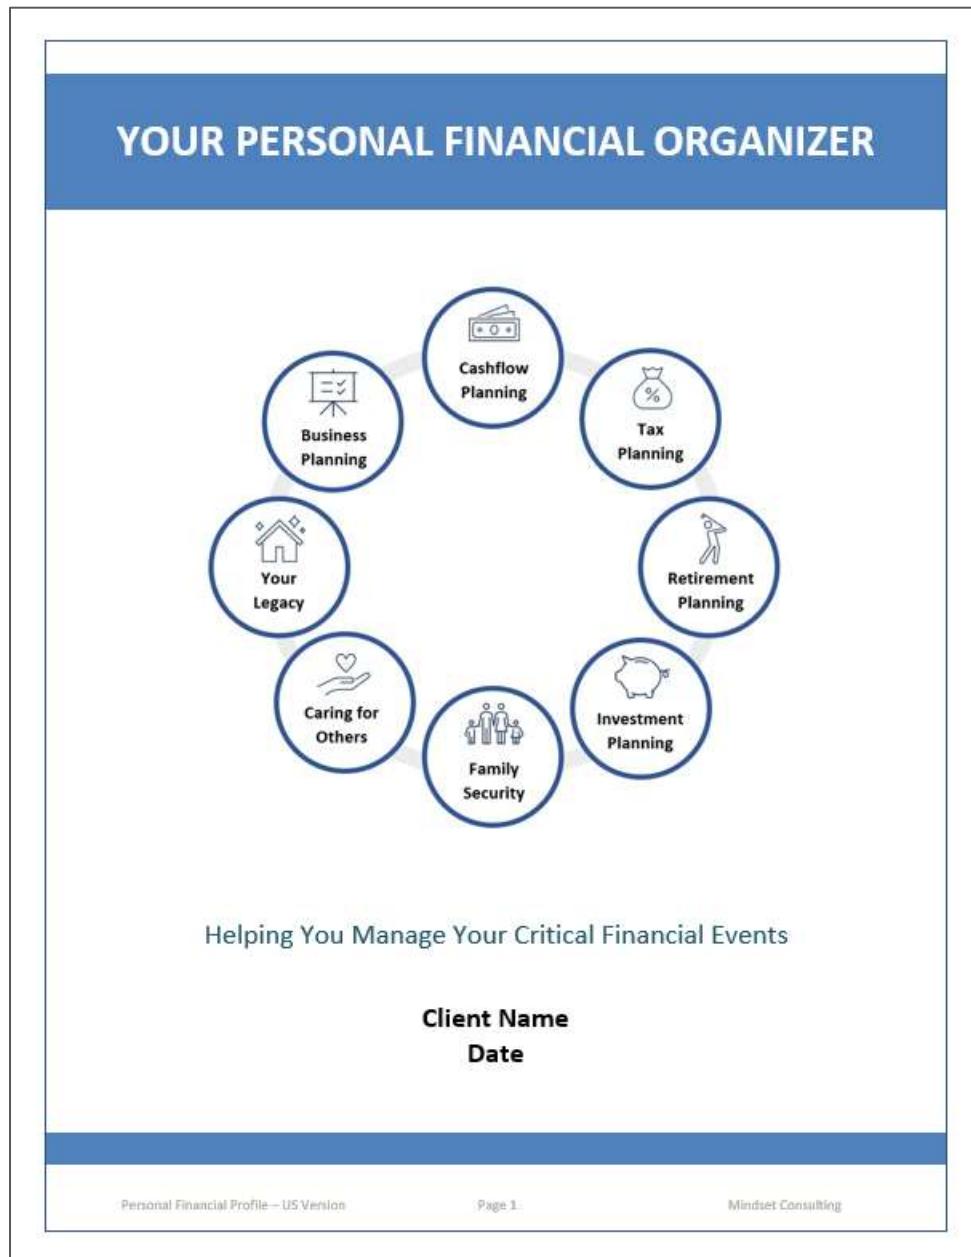

Your Assistant may make this appointment for you at the end of the meeting or they may call the client later that day – in which case you would simply let the client know to expect the call from your Assistant. Choose the method that works best for your team – and stick with it.

The Personal Financial Profile

The Personal Financial Profile is a resource Advisors can use if they currently do not have a questionnaire or fact finder they want to use for fact-finding.

We have provided a US Version and Canadian Version of this tool to reflect some variances in language used.

Next Step ➔ Go to this Best Practice online and print the version that best fits your practice.

Risk Tolerance Assessment

You may already have a Risk Tolerance Questionnaire you use with clients as a standard, which is great.

If not, here is a sample of the Risk Tolerance Questionnaire that may be used in the 2nd Appointment.

Risk Tolerance Assessment
This questionnaire has been designed to help you understand the type of investor you are, so that with the help of your adviser, you can choose the investments that best match your financial objectives.
1. Which of the following best describes your current stage of life?	Points
Single with few financial commitments. You are keen to accumulate wealth for the future. Some funds must be kept available for enjoyment (cars, clothes, travel or entertainment).	50
A couple without children. You may be preparing for the future by establishing and furnishing a home. There are a lot of things you need to buy. You are probably better off financially now than you may be in the future.	40
Young family. This is the peak home purchasing stage. You have a mortgage and a small amount of savings. Probably dissatisfied with your financial position and the amount of money saved.	30
Mature family. You are in your peak earning years and have got the mortgage under control. Many partners also work, and any children are growing up and have either left home or require less supervision. You're starting to think about retirement, although it may be many years away.	20
Preparing for retirement. You probably own your own home and have few financial commitments; however, you want to ensure that you can afford a comfortable retirement. Interested in travel, recreation and self-education.	20
Retired. No longer working you must rely on existing funds and investments to maintain your lifestyle. You may be receiving the pension and are keen to enjoy life and maintain your health.	10
2. What return do you reasonably expect to achieve from your investments?
A return without losing any capital.	10
3 – 7% per annum.	20
8 – 12% per annum.	30
13-15% per annum.	40
Over 15% per annum.	50

Strategy 13 Self-Assessment

- 1) The 2nd Appointment is focused on fact finding with your new client and sharing with them your introduction Process for the first time:
 True False

- 2) The resource that outlines each step in the 2nd Appointment Process is called the:
 Basic Checklist 2nd Appointment Process Graphic
 Risk Tolerance Assessment None of the above

- 3) Prior to the 2nd Appointment, a detailed checklist of items the prospect needs to bring to this meeting is sent out in advance:
 True False

- 4) The 2nd Appointment should always be agenda-driven and last about an hour:
 True False

- 5) Which of the following client-facing resources should be used in the 2nd Appointment to ensure you continue to look professional, methodical, and organized?
 2nd Appointment Agenda Risk Tolerance
 Fact Finder All the above

- 6) Which of these is not a good reason to use a Fact Finder?
 It allows all the important information to be gathered in one location so nothing is missed or lost which makes data entry easier on the planning software
 It shows your new client how thorough and professional you are in taking the time to get to know everything about them
 It provides a framework for a large number of important questions across many topics that nobody could possibly remember on their own
 None of the above

7) The purpose of this best practice is to:

- Gather all necessary information to formulate recommendations related to financial planning and investment management
- Continue to make a great impression on them with your client-focused, professional, and proactive process
- Position the concept of introducing others to you while they are in the ‘honeymoon’ phase of becoming a client
- All the above
